Introduction

Shanin, defines that "The peasantry consists of small agriculture producers who, with the help of simple equipment and the labour of their families, produce mainly for their own consumption and for the fulfillment of obligations to the holders of political and for economic power" (Guruswamy, 1993).

A Good Introduction :-

Importance of the expected results to the general inquiry. Extremely briefly depict the exploratory configuration and how it achieved the expressed destinations.

Materials

The present study is made in Aland taluka of Kalaburagi district located in Karnataka and is recognized as backward region under Section 371(J) of the Indian Constitution. The present study is made on the basis of sample survey of total 400 scheduled caste farmers.

A Good Materials :-

Materials may be accounted for in a different passage or else they may be distinguished alongside your systems. Inc or supplies that are not generally found in research centers.

Result

Must add result in your article .

A Good Result :-

Results are as per aims and objective and useful to further research .

Conclusion

It is observed from the above discussion that, many of the scheduled caste farmers are facing many problems in society. Further, though many of the social welfare schemes were formulated by the Government, only few of the scheduled caste farmers were taken benefits from these schemes. Lack of awareness about these schemes among the scheduled castes is the main reasons for the same.

A Good Conclusion :-

Thus, the research have wider scope for new academicians and research scholars.

REVIEWER COMMENTS

- The writing audit was careful, the approach was carefully exhaustive and fused the utilization of sufficient quantities of tests in dust size examination and blast tests.
- I discover no shortcoming at all with the routines, information examination, or conclusions.
