PHILOSOPHICAL CONCEPT OF GENETIC CENTRE: IS IT CONTROL CENTRE OF LIVING BEING?

P. Dhanapathi

Research Scholar, Bharathiar University, Coimbatore, Tamil Nadu State, India.

ABSTRACT

Genetic Centre is the Centre of any activity in the Universe. This Centre is the place for the memory and thereby the Control Centre of any living entity including human being. It is also postulated that Genetic Centre is the continuum and exists ever, even though the brain decays at death. The study focuses on understanding the Philosophical Concept of Genetic Centre in living and nonliving beings and the relationship with each other, including its formation, structure and network of functioning in the universe and also its unceasing transformations. The study suggests that the control Centre of living being is not the brain, but Genetic Centre.

INTRODUCTION :

Human comprises of a soul and a body. When the body is in time and space, the soul is appreciated in time only. The vital feature of mind is memory. Even though there is no reason that the memory affiliated with a given person exists that person's death. Indeed there is every reason to think the contrary, for memory is clearly associated with a certain type of brain structure, and because this structure disintegrates at death, there is ground to believe that memory also must suspend. The study focuses on understanding the Philosophical Concept of Genetic Centre in living and nonliving beings and the relationship with each other, which was proposed by Vethathiri Maharishi (1911-2006) of South India. Vethathiri Maharishi is the founder of The World Community Service Centre (WCSC) and proponent of Simplified Kundalini Yoga (SKY). Genetic Centre is the Centre of any activity of inorganic or organic nature in the universe. This Centre is the place for the memory and thereby the Control Centre of any living entity including human being. It is also postulated that Genetic Centre is the continuum and exists ever, even though the brain decays at death. The formation, structure and function of Genetic Centre in non-living and living beings, their network of functioning in the universe and also unceasing transformations are identified here in this paper.

INORGANIC GENETIC CENTRE:

Vethathiri Maharishi elucidate that Absolute Space is Primordial or God and it is emerging as energy particle due to its self-compressive surrounding pressure force. The universal magnetism is the mystic, divine and powerful principle emerging from joint function of Absolute Space and the wave radiated by the spinning of energy particles. It has a dual aspect of compression and magnification, which is the nature of God. The universe is made up of planets and stars. They are nothing but material mass. Any mass in the kinetic field of universe has the boundary and also has the Centre point, is called as Genetic Centre. When we analyze about mass, there are nothing but the collection of atoms or energy particles. There are said to be Akash or life force in philosophical terms. Akash has Centre point and is also called 'Genetic Centre', but it has vast boundary up to universe. These particles function with Akash particles of any living being and also of entire universe.

ORGANIC GENETIC CENTRE:

Living beings originate from five elements maintaining their individuality and yet protecting and preserving one another. In such an environment a small inorganic mass may get a magnetic wave circulation. These magnetic waves become intensified in the Centre of the mass as a 'concentrated wave pool', extend and interact with the universal magnetism. The interaction with environment continually characterizes the quality of the central pool, which becomes the 'Genetic Centre'. This is now an organic mass and can then evolve as a living being. The magnetism functioning within a living being is bio-magnetism, magnetic body. Because of intensified magnetic pool the five elements are attracted and joined together leads to the formation of physical body with all organs including senses. The millions of energy particles are in circulation in this magnetic pool leads to the formation of astral body. The physical body, astral body and magnetic body are functioning as a one unit in all the living beings. In a small mass of five elements (i.e. energy particles, air, heavy air, liquid and solid) when the flow of magnetism arranges the cells, it makes a magnetic circuit to protect its existence and co-ordinate metabolic functions. At the vortex of the intensified bio-magnetic force in the physical body, the life force particles and sexual vital fluid have their working centre. This vortex at the centre of the body called Mooladharor 'Genetic Centre'. Most of the marrow tissues are in the brain and it is there that the major portion of sexual vital fluid is made. At the time of puberty, that is about twelve years of age, the sexual vital fluid becomes surplus. The surplus fluid is drawn to the Genetic Centre and descends from the brain in a small stream through the nerve canal of the spine. Then the Genetic Centre is fully mature with three aspects: 1) Bio-magnetic intensity, 2) life-force intensity, and 3) a required amount of sexual vital fluid.

GENES ARE THE BASE OF SOUL:

Vethathiri Maharishi elucidates that Soul comprises of Energy particle, Inherent core Consciousness, Extending capacity through the bio-magnetic field which is mind and Imprinting, storing, reflecting all the perceptual experiences as Karma and its results. In other words, soul is nothing but astral body with compressed bio-magnetic domain. The soul is based on the chromosomes and genes and characterized with all kinds of experiences and actions of all the generations of the hereditary link. As the genetic center encapsulates the soul it is to be valued as the greatest treasure of life. All the secrets of the soul are in the compressed magnetic waveform in the genome of an organism. 'Genome' means full set of genes of different characters contained in chromosome. So chromosomes are carrying the genes and genes are the bases carrying all the characters of living being. The gene holds the compressed magnetic wave form of characters and qualities of living being. The soul is the ever existing treasury containing all these marvelous phenomena in man and in all living beings. As the battery is serving as an accommodating vessel for electricity, the chromosomes have evolved as an association of particular elements and are the carriers of genes, which in turn are the base of the soul. Gene is a consolidated characteristic principle in every living being. This consolidation comes from the origin of the universal function up to the present life experiences and also will extend to several generations of progeny.

By gravitational force, a centripetal force is created in the centre of the mass. Similarly, by the circulation of bio-magnetism in a living being, a centripetal centre evolves which creates the seed. Seed is the treasure of the organism, containing multifarious secrets of the universe. Around the life-force particles in the seed, the magnetic force is intensified; it is spiritual, magnetic centre of the body. Thus, Genetic reproduction is effected by the centripetal, spiritual force of bio-magnetism which forms the seed. Within the seed the pattern, precision and regularity of the tree are magnetically encoded by the genetic process of the nature. The centripetal force of bio-magnetism draws all the waves from outside through the senses to be stored in the magnetic field of body generally and in the seed cells particularly. This conditions the genetic code. Thus bio-magnetism is the basis of procreation, genetic value, and psychic extension of consciousness, pain, pleasure, need and action.

CONTROL CENTRE OF LIVING BEING IS NOT BRAIN, BUT GENETIC CENTRE:

When the magnetic wave, which emanates from soul, passes through brain, then the magnetic wave is said to be mind. Brain is an organ or instrument for getting attunement with mental frequencies of all living beings and also with masses. Mind is the perceiving antenna of the magnetic wave of the living being as well as that which assumes shape and image based on perception and memory. This bio-magnetic mental domain can cover all the universal activities and functions. Apart from five perceiving senses of skin (touch), tongue (taste), nose (smell), ears (hearing), and eyes (sight), the sixth sense also works through the mind to perceive all ideas, communications and memories, receives intuition and is the link with the universal magnetism. According to the mental frequency of the person and other circumstances the compressed waves at the Genetic Centre are magnified by the brain cells and so that precisely the same thoughts and deeds emerge as memory. 'Genetic Centre', which is the seat of all mental, physical and spiritual (life force) functions in the living being. Brain is the physical entity. Even for the function of brain the magnetic energy, which emanates from soul, is required. Thus it appears that the control Centre of living being is Genetic Centre, not the brain.

TRANSFORMATION OF GENETIC CENTER AND PERSONALITY:

In a living being the impact is occurring in a Genetic Centre according to the activities around it and because of every impact is a character, the Genetic Centre is characterized accordingly. The fluctuations caused, by the five transformations of touch, sound, light, taste and smell and also the expenditure of the bio-magnetic energy, are shrunk in its wave form, reach the Genetic Centre and characterize it. Every mental wave affects Genetic Centre in two ways. First, a thought creates an imprint of characterized magnetism. According to its associated motive or attitude, it has an appropriate result in one's life force (astral body) and cells of the physical body, characterizing them accordingly. If an action or thought is directed outside of oneself, one's bio-magnetic wave becomes one with the object of thought, accordingly effects a change in it and Genetic Centre is characterized by the effect of the thought. So every mental wave affects one's Genetic center upon its origination and by being characterized by its object. Each such characterization is registered and stored, to be released in time according to the environment and opportunity. Because of the Genetic Centre formed in minute living being is a magnetic field, all experiences shrink in wave form and become quality in Genetic Centre even when the living being changes into any shapes. At present, every living being lives by getting thousands of physical modifications from a minute living being. The Genetic Centre gets respective modification in its form in accordance with living being and finally reached specialized human form. The characters of all living beings in the world will be in the Genetic Centre of a man. A special state reached by magnetic force is called as frequency when it functions. When mental frequency of human mind is changing, the characters of any living being in the Genetic Centre may express. Because of quality of human life is differing from other living creatures, the characters of all living beings cannot manifest. When the environment is relevant to the human mind, the characters and thoughts of few creatures will express as actions.

INTER CONNECTIVITY OF GENETIC CENTERS:

The inner core of the Genetic Centers is Magnetic field. There is no shape and boundary for this magnetic domain since it is inner core of all wave functions in the universe. As the human Genetic Centre includes the centre of life force particles, it is thereby linked with the centers of all particles and the centers of the Earth and all celestial bodies. Even though the Genetic Centre is at the centre of living being, it is functioning in contact with entire universe through universal magnetism pervaded in entire universe. So, the contents in mind or the Genetic Centre of a man will reflect in all living beings. Because of these living beings involve in personal activities, they are not able to feel these subtler contents.

PURIFICATION OF GENETIC CENTRE:

The combination of Ego, Sinful imprints and Maya is termed as Blemishes. The blemishes are accumulated and transferred through generations from animals. The ego means not-realizing the origin, functions and effects of universe and it's Primordial. This results in six temperaments called greed, anger, miserliness, immoral sex, superiority and inferiority complex and vengeance. This in turn cause five sins of telling lies, stealing, killing, gambling, rape. Sin means careless selfish thought, words, deeds which always hurt everyone everywhere in all aspects all time. Maya means undue attachments to men and materials. Unfulfilled desires; telling lies; hurting others directly or indirectly; snatching the property and freedom of others; jealousy, anger and vengeance; not following limit and method in food habit, sleep, working style, sex and thoughts; are blemishing agents. Vethathiri Maharishi suggests the following ways for purifying Genetic Centre. They are, respect the parents, teacher, leader and almighty; follow morality, duty and charity; practicing physical exercise, introspection and meditation to realize Godliness; remaining in close association with Nature and Almighty; see himself in others by realizing everyone is made of same nature; not to abuse man-made materials and natural resources; be kind with love and compassion; and also treating each individual as world citizen not taking their origin, religion, sect, language and nation into account.

PROLIFERATION OF GENETIC CENTRE IN LIVING BEING:

All qualities of and characters of a living being with its core principles are descending from one generation to next through the Genetic Centre. The Genetic Centre of a living being is a concentric magnetic domain, containing all the compressed waves of experiences of numerous generations. After the maturity of a living being if a progeny is produced, that will have its own Genetic Centre with its inherited characters. In the Genetic Centre of the progeny all the magnetic records of the ancestral qualities and potentials will be transferred without omission.

IMMORTALITY OF GENETIC CENTRE:

When a child is born during the life of living being, the Genetic Centre with the inherent qualities will become as initial basic stock force for the child, which is transferred through sexual vital fluid of the parents. That child will grow; it will act according to the situations. The actions and experiences during its life time will add in Genetic Centre. This is a kind of birth-chain formed by wonderful consciousness of divine force. Human's Genetic Centre is functioning as divine court of justice and intensified centre of universal energy. A living being is not a philosophy which lives for some period and die. Since all the qualities in Genetic Centre continue in non-destroyable state even after separated from the physical body, it cannot merge with universal magnetism because of countless experiences are there as blemishes, functional nature. So this will float on universal magnetism and join with Genetic Centre of similar characters, of same kind of living race, which is living and so that it can purify its blemishes. After this, these two genetic centers will merge and the qualities become one, and the actions and notions of that man will be active. So the Genetic Centre will not ruin. After getting the imprints purified, this Genetic Centre becomes the blemish less magnetic waves, dissolves in universal magnetism and merges with divine state.

CONCLUSION:

Since Genetic Centre has emerged from Primordial or God, it can also be termed as Centre of activity of God. The Genetic Centre is the one which is the bridge between the human's physical body and mind, between individual and society, between man and planets, between man's previous and future birth, between man and Brahman and shelter for three great imperceptible objects viz. divinity, life force and mind. It seems that Genetic Centre Controls the physical and mental activity of the Living beings. Mooladhara chakra forms the center from where the life energy circulates all over the body. As long as this energy remains centered in the mooladhara, the individual is unaware of its presence; but when it is raised to the Agna Chakra, he becomes aware of its quality, value and functions. Vethathiri Maharishi has given the SKY yoga technique through which unwanted mental and physical traits can be sublimated with awareness. This knowledge is essential to every human being for health, happiness, prosperity and peaceful living. Thus one can purify the Genetic Centre which is necessary for attaining perfection or realizing God along with satisfied life.
